

LET THE MARKET DETERMINE EXPERT FEES

Without medical experts, the workers' compensation system in New Jersey would come to a grinding halt. Treating physicians often do not have the time, knowledge, or desire to become involved in litigation by providing narrative reports or appearing in court on behalf of their patients. For that reason, both sides of our adversarial process rely on forensic medical experts, who do not furnish medical treatment but conduct independent medical exams (IMEs) and prepare narrative reports to assist the court in reaching a decision regarding the need for ... CONTINUE READING

MCDONALD'S CUSTOMERS SUE FOR BEING FORCED TO PAY FOR CHEESE

In Fort Lauderdale, Florida, things got a little crazy! Two McDonald's customers sued the fast-food chain for $5 million, alleging they were unfairly charged when they ordered Quarter Pounders without cheese.

According to the lawsuit, the fast-food restaurant chain historically had four menu options: a Quarter Pounder with cheese, a Double Quarter Pounder with cheese, a Quarter Pounder, and a ... CONTINUE READING

CHECK OUT THIS STRANGE ILLINOIS LAW!

By law, in the United States, the minimum legal drinking age is 21 years old. When an individual under 21 breaks the law and consumes alcohol, they are subject to arrest and hefty fines. However, there's a loophole in Illinois.

In 2012, the Illinois State Senate voted 48–6 in favor of passing a "sip and spit" law for Illinois culinary students over 18 but under the legal drinking age of 21. This strange law enabled these students to ... CONTINUE READING